Issue 30 Term 4 Week 1

Thursday 12th Oct 2017

DEAR PARENTS/CARERS

Welcome back,
The staff are all looking forward to an amazing and busy term 4.

We welcome 4 new students and their families to our school this term- Sam into Kindy, Ella into Year 1, Molly Year 5 and Georgia Year 6.

CAMP

Years 3 to 6 will be going to camp in week 3- notes have gone home with a medical consent form for all students attending- please fill these out and return ASAP.

Please note

1. All students going to camp must wear shorts at least mid thigh length long- this is a safety requirement of camp. No short shorts / footy shorts etc are permitted to be worn at camp. If your child does not own longer shorts (at least mid thigh length) please purchase or borrow some- the op shops in town are a great economical option- cutting off old jeans is also a popular option. It is absolutely necessary for every day at the camp that students have the appropriate shorts/pants.

2. No singlet/muscle tops- children must wear sunsafe clothing- polo shirts or T shirt- sleeves are a must, also no wide open neck shirts. Old clothes are best- it is not a fashion parade they will get dirty and muddy.

Dont forget to pack a separate closed pair of shoes for water activities (old joggers water shoes) as well as your joggers for dry activities.

Swim school

Swim school is coming and notes are attached Thank you to the P&C for their mighty efforts in paying for the bus - this saves families $55 per child- you only have to pay the swim fees which is $31 per child.

Yours in Education

Tania Gilchrist

Personification Poems by 5-6Orr

The poster farted loudly after holding it in all day.

It is such a challenge having to look perfect for every person that looks at you.

Every minute it got harder to hold the dreadful sound of that smelly fart.

All until 3 hours after that curried egg sandwich when everyone left the room - everyone except for unlucky Mr Clare.

That's when he let it rip!

My car keys giggled because it hates being pushed into the dark, small space.

It screeched as I turned it clockwise.

After I took it out, it retreated back to my bag.

by Shtiki

My big orange yelled at the top of its lungs because it hates being cut.

The sharp knife cut down the centre, making it scream in agony!

I eat the orange slice while the other slices cry for mercy but it's too late.

All that's left is their skin.

By Georgia

My favourite book jumped very high because it hates being read.

It sighed in defeat when I turned the page.

The story grew more interesting as I read on.

The book was relieved as I finished the book and left it alone.

Hi,

My name is Emma Waite and I am a resident of Coopernook. In 2015 I was diagnosed with Heart Disease.

I've committed to walk/run 42.2 km this October as part of the MyMarathon challenge.

I'm going to be very sore and sweaty!

But I need to stay motivated, because as part of my challenge, I'm fundraising to support the Heart Foundation to fight the biggest killer of Australians, heart disease.

Heart disease kills one person every 12 minutes. It's also the leading cause of death for women, accounting for 3 times more deaths than breast cancer.

Will you support me to keep me on track for my 42.2 km challenge?

Please click the link to donate to my fundraising page and read more about my story: <https://mymarathon.everydayhero.com/au/emma-waite>

Your donation is tax deductible and you'll receive a receipt via email.

Thank you!

Emma
