Principals Message

Dear Parents and Carers

New Playground

I met this morning with our assets team for the new playground. Next week we should have companies visiting to measure up for tender process and then we can hopefully see our new playground for the new year. Covid has unfortunately delayed this process considerably, but it is finally coming to fruition.

3-6 Camp

It does not look like we will be able to travel for our 3-6 camp at this stage and we will be able to make a definite decision next week. If cancelled, we will refund parents money and I will be organising an "in school" camp which will not be sleeping over but a week of camp style fun activities for the children in 3-6.

Kindy Orientation

Invitations and dates for Kindy orientation will be sent out next week. Only children who have brought in their enrolment forms will be able to attend- this is a covid regulation.

If you know anybody who might not have enrolled yet for 2022 please encourage them to call our office straight away so we can get them enrolled and they can be included in orientation.

Yours in education

Tania Gilchrist

This week 5/6 have been studying poetry, here are some of their poems inspired by Roald Dahl's Revolting Rhymes

Peter Pan

Peter Pan was a lost boy
He had had a terrible ploy
To overcome Captain Hook
Who was a nasty crook
Peter Pan was annoyed
That Captain Hook destroyed his ploy
He faced him face to face but that began a wild goose chase Captain Hook may have won
But we all know he did it for fun
By Ella Kenane, Year 5

The day when little mermaid became psycho

Little mermaid had to run before the kingsman would kill her for fun she found a gun on the floor and shot humpty at the door Humpty died and Barbie cried, little mermaid strangled Barbie and left without a tardy, Barbie's dress got tangled so little mermaid continued to strangle, Hansel and Gretel came to untangle so he chucked a pebble at Little Mermaid's temple.
